

Endpoint Security Assessment

How we can help:

There are 390,000 malicious programs registered every day by the AV-Test Institute (AV-TEST, 2016). Traditional End Point Security solutions are not effectively providing protection against Malware and need to be either upgraded, replaced or augmented with new methods. Sayers continues to invest in collecting End Point Security data and partnering with the right product technologies. A Sayers End Point Security assessment will help reduce testing and research needed to meet your organizations business needs faster.
